Places where a standing table would be a good addition to the space, often lack strength or the table material cannot withstand the elements. At HeBlad we have the ideal solution for this: the anthracite concrete standing table. Thanks to its size and robustness, this standing table is difficult to move and is resistant to vandalism. The anthracite concrete is specifically intended for outdoor use. This way you can offer your guests the practical standing table for fun, you don't have to worry about your materials and it is unnecessary to protect the table against bad weather conditions.

Opt for ambiance and fun with the concrete standing table and ping pong table
If you have an area that is prone to vandalism, but you want to create a pleasant atmosphere, then this anthracite concrete standing table from HeBlad is a very good contestant. At sports parks, public playgrounds and in parks, the standing table provides a pleasant opportunity to bring parents together, for example, while the children exercise and play. By also placing the ping pong table or foot volleyball table, the children can play wonderful games while the parents or supervisors stand at the high table. HeBlad's ping pong tables are supplied with associated accessories. All HeBlad products are resistant to the most extreme weather conditions. This is due to the design and the high-quality material.

Other versions of the anthracite concrete standing table
Tastes differ, we know that at HeBlad. That is why we also have the anthracite concrete standing table in the versions anthracite lacquered standing table and natural concrete standing table. Combinations of different standing tables are of course also possible. This way, you can give your site a more playful atmosphere. When you order two or more standing tables you will receive a nice discount. For
