£ 3,750.00 excl. VAT
(£ 4,500.00 incl. VAT)

The round concrete table tennis table is a nice addition to any schoolyard, playground or park. By placing this table tennis table in places where there are many young people, you encourage them to do more outdoor activities, such as table tennis! With this round ping-pong table, several people can easily play together at the same time. For endless fun!

Quality of the concrete ping pong tables

This round concrete table tennis table, like all other HeBlad game and gaming tables, is cast from one piece of concrete. This means that the round concrete table tennis table consists of one piece of concrete. The concrete is of high quality, as you have come to expect of us. This high-quality product is so strong and robust that it does not invite vandalism. This means you can enjoy table tennis with the HeBlad concrete ping pong tables for years to come!

What types of table tennis tables are available?

This round concrete table tennis table is also available in other versions: in the colours green, blue, anthracite or natural concrete. You can also obtain the concrete table tennis tables in other shapes: in the original rectangular shape and the rectangular shape with rounded corners.

Is a concrete base plate necessary for a table tennis table? The concrete base plate that comes with this round concrete table tennis table ensures that you will not be bothered by grass or mud under your table tennis table. This significantly reduces the risk of slipping while using the table tennis table. Moreover, this makes maintenance a lot easier and the table is even more stable. The bottom plate is optional for every game table. The base plate can be ordered separately and your site must meet a number of conditions. Always contact us to discuss this.

Combinations with concrete table tennis table

Make your park, playground or accommodation look even more inviting by combining our products. For example, you can place a concrete bench next to this round concrete table tennis table. Or a concrete picnic set. This allows young people to rest for a while after using the round concrete table tennis table and possibly have lunch. This provides additional encouragement for outdoor activities among young people.
