Can an anthracite foot volley table or table tennis table be painted? The anthracite-coloured game tables from HeBlad are supplied in the colour RAL 7016. You can purchase this colour in a 1-litre can via our webshop. This way, you never have to look at a damaged game table, because updating and refreshing the anthracite game table is child's play. This also applies to the other HeBlad colours: green and blue. You can use the white paint to repaint the lines and the net. You will also receive a special hardener with the paint; this layer of lacquer protects your paintwork against discolouration and other damages caused by the weather.

Concrete table tennis table anthracite

How long does the anthracite table tennis table last? This game table, like all other HeBlad products, is specifically designed and manufactured to serve outdoors for years without affecting its appearance or usability. Because we also promote sustainability, the game tables with minor signs of wear or damage can easily be repaired or refreshed with paint or a repair kit.

Contact HeBlad

What damage can be repaired on the anthracite game tables? With a repair kit, you can quickly remove minor irregularities with the filler and you can easily refresh your table with the right paint. If you are unsure about the extent of your damage, please contact us. We can easily estimate how best to repair your damage.
