Where are ping pong tables located? A beautiful, large, round concrete ping-pong table is a striking showpiece on the schoolyard, in a park or on a sports field that young and old will enjoy for years to come. Children like to gather where there is a round ping-pong table. They meet friends and when they come together they are ingenious in coming up with new ball games on this table. With a ping-pong table you encourage visitors to stay active ans play outside, together.

The quality of the round concrete table tennis table

What is the quality of Heblad's round concrete ping pong tables? Just like our other table tennis tables, park benches, foot volleyball tables and game tables, this round concrete ping pong table is also made from one piece of concrete, with top and bottom reinforcement. This means that we guarantee that you can enjoy your round concrete ping pong table for years to come. The weight makes theft impossible and the material is scratch and weather resistant.

What games can be played on a round ping pong table?

The round shape of this table requires creativity. The game 'around the table' is of course very applicable here. Multiple players can also play at the table at the same time and the game possibilities are endless.

This round concrete ping pong table is painted blue, but the round concrete ping pong table is also available in other colours; lacquered green, anthracite concrete, natural concrete and anthracite. The concrete ping pong tables are also available in a rectangular shape and a rectangular shape with rounded corners. Would you prefer a variation on the ping pong table? Then take a look at the foot volleyball table.

Benches at the concrete table tennis table

You can easily combine the concrete ping pong table with a concrete bench or with a concrete picnic table. This creates even more social interaction, wonderfully outdoors. The more people continue to watch the game, the more people become active themselves. After all, the game is and remains infectious.
